Emile, a red and purple alien from the vibrant planet Mathedonia, was an immature explorer with an insatiable curiosity. He and his trusty robot companion, Aimee, embarked on a quest across the cosmos. Despite their seemingly impossible mission, Emile was anything but inpatient.

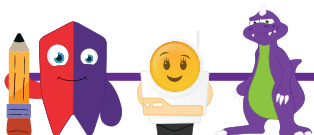

Their journey took them to a distant asteroid, where an ancient artifact, rumoured to grant immortality, lay hidden. Emile, with his imperfect understanding of the device, decided to implant it into Aimee, hoping to unlock its secrets.

As they continued their quest, Emile encountered various alien species, some polite and welcoming, while others were downright impolite. The duo faced challenges that seemed insurmountable, but Emile's determination was immeasurable.

One day, they stumbled upon a planet where the inhabitants were eager to share their knowledge. Emile realised that the true treasure was the immaterial wisdom gained through their travels. He understood that immortality wasn't about avoiding death but embracing the endless possibilities of exploration.

Emile and Aimee decided not to immigrate to any one place but to continue their journey through the cosmos, forever seeking the next adventure. In the end, their imperfect understanding of the universe led to an unimaginable and extraordinary life.

12 The Wizard's Word Hunt

Read the story and find the words with spelling gone wrong. Write them correctly to fix the spell.

Underline the 16 spelling mistakes in the below story and write out the correct spelling on this sheet.

Emile, the red and purple alien from the vibrant planet Mathedonia, was an antisocial explorer who enjoyed wandering anticlockwise around his home. One day, he found an intriguing artifact emitting an antiseptic glow. Excitement filled his alien eyes as he clutched the object, eager to discover its secrets.

Curiosity led Emile to his robot friend Aimee, whose circuits whirred with anticipation. Aimee, with her shiny metallic surface, could automatically analyse any object placed in her grasp. Emile handed her the mysterious artifact, hoping for an antidote to his curiosity.

Aimee's optical sensors flickered with activity as she scanned the object. "Emile, this appears to be an ancient autobiography from a distant planet," she declared, offering the autograph of its long-gone author.

Emile's eyes widened with delight as he began to anticipate the tales hidden within the pages. With newfound excitement, he requested Aimee to automate the translation process. Aimee, always supportive of Emile's explorations, autonomously initiated the translation, making the words come alive in Mathedonian language.

As Emile immersed himself in the captivating stories of alien adventures, he experienced an unexpected anti-climax. The autobiography ended abruptly, leaving Emile hanging on the edge of the narrative. Nevertheless, the journey had stirred Emile's imagination, and he felt a sense of autonomy in exploring the unknown.

In the days that followed, Emile and Aimee continued their anticlockwise expeditions, embracing the thrill of discovery on Mathedonia. With Aimee by his side, Emile knew that their adventures would automatically lead to more exciting chapters in their intergalactic journey.
